

First came a sortie to 8th & I as guests of Brigadier General Michael Wholley, the last B Company classmate still on active duty and its most senior member. Bob and Judy Lange couldn't quite come up with a cattle car; something about OSHA.

Next—a windshield tour of Quantico and TBS, a briefing about new studies in familiar classrooms, a visit to the new USMC Research Center, and a stroll down Qtown's memory lane.

The group gathered on the Mall and in an informal ceremony memorialized its fallen comrades. Dick Larson's friend, Jim Perdew, a retired Navy Chaplain who served with Marines in Chu Lai and elsewhere, led the group in prayer.
